

I don't blog: I brag, celebrate, and shamelessly advertise!!!

Welcome! to the director's cut version of my newsletter. You know, or should know by now, I'm dyslexic. Put away your grease pencil and red pen. It won't get much better than this.

Freely share this newsletter link. If quoted, follow the conventions of professional conduct and good manners with proper citations.
<http://nadelamanbooks.com/newsletter.html>

Since this is a monthly newsletter there's a month's worth of links & other stuff in each issue. I know it takes time clicking all the links, but seriously, they're all there with you in mind. Don't ya feel special? You ARE special! Very special!

Writing News Briefs: The WOW news is that Kathryn's Beach has been picked up by a new small press, All Things That Matter Press.

I've known author Phil Harris for 'ever.' I knew he and Deb were starting a small press. What I did not know was that they were going to publish books like I write.

It may have been planned, but it seemed like an afterthought tacked onto the bottom of an email exchange. It was an invitation to publish with them, if I ever wanted to change publishers.

Infinity has been a great little publisher and if Michelle Shane can be cloned, every publisher should get in line to have their very own Michelle. She has held my hand, explained things to me, made things happen seamlessly, and promptly replied to emails. And she has a great laugh. One of the fun things about being an author is meeting great people in this industry.

I have long wanted to move my books in a different direction. To do that, they needed to be published different from how they began. I'm all giddy with excitement about Kathryn's Beach, and hoping that High Tide will be picked up too. Oh yes, and Storm Surge, my problem ms.

It is safe to say, I was dancing on the ceiling when the contract for Kathryn's Beach arrived. Oh someone please pinch me! (It's a saying, don't really pinch me.) Yeah, life is that good.

Phil, the rolling stone who gathers no moss, emails that he is listing me on the coming soon page of their website. Oh, I'm over the moon now. www.allthingsthatmatterpress.com/comingsoon.htm

If you clicked on the link above, you saw what I saw. Unbelievable, isn't it? I am the luckiest author on this planet. No, I'm not telling what I saw, I want everyone to go click on that link.

Thank you Phil and Deb.

What's Next? With me, one never knows, do they? (You have no idea how true this is!)

AUTHORS please note:

I'm still in a clean and organize mode. (Just be glad you don't live with me.) This time the newsletter has my eye. Beginning in January 09, authors who do not keep in regular contact with me will be assumed inactive and their books will be removed from my list to make room for other books and info.

In no way will this mean the books are unavailable or that I no longer support them. It only means that they are inactive contacts.

So if you want your book and info to remain in this newsletter email to me before the end of the year (2008). Please keep me posted on your book news. I'd love to celebrate your successes with you and share with my readers.

www (Wonderful Web Wizard):

Joyce H. has repaired the newsletter sign-up link on my website. If you are reading this on the website, but did not received an email notice that it is posted, please sign up again. It may have looked like it went through on your end, but your email address did not come through to me. Whoops!

In the "that's enough about me department"— let's celebrate each other!!!

Please note the YouTube® book videos have been moved with the book featured. Also, it may not look like it at first glance, but I do go through this sections and make changes. Please check.

Did you know that YouTube® now has new features. Look on your video page for the links.

The 'edit video' button sets up caption and annotation features There are definitions and instructions included. You can set the map to open on the setting/location of your book. Mine is set to Seal Beach, California.

Look at the other button, 'Insights' for rustic stats on who is viewing your video. Way cool. I expect it will become more refined in time.

Can't get enough to feed your stats addiction? Got them all on your website—the one from your web host, google, that free stat counter you stuck on your homepage? Still need more info? Well, guess what! YouTube® offers stats on your video hits. Go to your account and look for "insights" where it lists "video owner options." It is really cool.

When you use YouTube® to promote your book. Make sure you use only pictures and music you own or have the rights or licenses to use.

What I like about YouTube® videos for your book is that once you put in the time to do a nice one, it is done. If you are writing articles and blogs, those things take maintenance time. You have to keep something new or interest wans.

My YouTube® is averaging 200 hits a month. It is a small 'time' investment for people who don't have a lot of time to keep their name moving in other ways.

In the "this is really cool" department:

Fountain Hills, Arizona (located on the eastern edge of the Phoenix metroplex) is sponsoring a monthly art walk near the fountain. (You cannot possibly miss this fountain. It is huge. Map it on the internet and see for yourself.) With the Art Walk is a book signing by local authors.

It is held the first Saturday of the month, from October to May, from 10 AM to 3 PM. That means, NOV 1, this Saturday. See ya there!

I attended the October book signing and met Zanne Kennedy, a very charming and prolific writer, and her number one fan, husband David Morrow. Dave was quite the salesman. I was strong and only bought Zanne's first book. Had my husband - the shopping King of the west valley been with me - I would have ended up with all of Zanne's books, including advance orders for the rest of the ones she hasn't written yet. The guy (Charley) loves to read. (Note to self, Dave and Charley must never meet.)

It was a gorgeous day. It was cool by Arizona standards, which means you are not roasting over an open fire in the shade. The sky was dark blue-gray. Pretty. It rained all of two seconds on the way over to Fountain Hills. I seriously thought of stopping to put the top down on my Mustang just to encourage it to rain a decent amount, since this is a desert and the monsoons are months away.

Because of the 'rain' all the other authors packed it in by 1 PM, but having driven across town, I was determined to check out this event.

In the process I purchased Zanne's first book. She is finishing up her fourth novel set in an Amish community in Penn.

Zanne is a graphic artist and designed the covers for her books. The picture from my cell phone doesn't give Zanne or her book cover art their due.

Now a word from our shameless advertising dept: (That would be me.)

You can buy books anywhere ... internet, bookstore, wherever. The listed writers have signed copies of their book available. There is a huge variety listed, if you can't find something to read from this list, you simply aren't trying.

KATHRYN'S BEACH & HIGH TIDE are now out of print. Yep. Hang onto your old copies. I've told the story a million times how John Grisham sold his first book out of the trunk of his car. That book in a reasonable quality sold for over $400.00 a couple of years ago. So I heard.

Worth Special Mention: Rita Y. Towes, an award winning Canadian writer of adult & children's fiction tackled a tough subject for parents, teens, and younger kids: Bullies.

Good job, Rita! Good job.

I get...the LAST WORD! (Naturally!)

---

You do know this stuff is only my opinion, however that doesn't mean I'm wrong. Does it?

Yes, you read correctly, KB and HT are out of print. I'm not sure if Amazon or anyone has any. So the lesson here is if you want a book, mine or anyone else's, don't wait too long to get it.

There is a new publisher for Kathryn's Beach and High Tide coming soon. After that Storm Surge comes out. If you want a matched set, then buy all three. I'll get details out when I know them.

Don't take too long to think it over. I have no idea how long they will be in print this time. A book's shelf life is in the hands of the readers from this point out. It has to do with how well they are selling. Buy the new book, read it, then tell your friends about it and where to purchase it. Don't be shy.

The holidays are coming, if you are one of the people who loved Kathryn's Beach, buy it for gift giving to the readers on your gift list.

We are making every effort to have KB out in time for the holidays. If something goes awry in our timetable, then get creative and send a gift certificate you made up. Maybe I'll make one for you and put it in the Dec newsletter, if KB isn't out in time for Christmas giving.

In America, we celebrate Thanksgiving Day. The point is to appreciate the people and the things you love. If the suddenness of my books going out of print has made you more aware that people and things must be appreciated while they are here, then that is a very good thing. Life isn't going to wait for you to get around to this.

If there is a book on my list (or your list) that you've been meaning to purchase, then do it, and read it. If there is a book you've been meaning to write, or finish, then do it.
